Top High School Contestants To Attend Speech Tourney

Approximately 213 high school students from the five state districts will take part in the Inter-scholastic Speech Tournament Friday and Saturday. All contestants are top winners of district contests.

The four categories of events are declamation, original oratory, extemporaneous speaking and debate.

The three subdivisions of the declamation contest are oratorical, humorous and dramatic. Twenty-eight students have registered for each of the subdivisions. All selections are limited to 10 minutes. There will be preliminary, semi-final and final contests.

Twenty-five students have registered for the original oratory contest. Orations must be written by the contestant.

The maximum time limit is 10 minutes, with no minimum. All contestants will take part in two preliminary rounds. Two finalists will be chosen in the semi-finals to speak in the final contest.

Extemporaneous speakers will draw lots for three specific topics based on one of the following general subjects, International Relations, 1959-60; Education in the Space Age; or the U. S. 1960 National Elections. The contestant will then choose one of the three topics for his speech. He will have one hour in which to prepare. Maximum time limit is eight minutes, with a minimum of five minutes.

Contestants will take part in three preliminary rounds. The highest ranking six will speak in the finals. Twenty-six students have registered.

All teams in the debate contest will take part in four preliminary rounds. The eight, or fewer, highest ranking teams will enter the elimination rounds, during which one defeat will eliminate the team. Thirty-nine teams have registered.

The debate question is, "Resolved: That the Federal Government Should Substantially Increase its Regulation of Labor Unions."

Prizes will be awarded at 10 p.m. Saturday in the University Auditorium. A trophy will be awarded by the Montana High School Association to the school scoring the greatest number of points in all events of the tournament.

Six Plays Set For Summer

Six major productions are scheduled for this summer's drama school. Each production will play from Wednesday through Sunday.

The plays are under the direction of Firman H. Brown Jr. and Douglas Bankson. Richard Henry James will act as technical director.

The plays scheduled include "Visit to a Small Planet," directed by Mr. Brown, June 15-19; two plays by Eugene Ionesco, directed by Mr. Bankson and Mr. Brown, June 22-26; "The Happy Time," directed by Mr. Brown, June 29-July 3; "I Am a Camera," directed by Mr. Bankson, July 6-10; "The Philadelphia Story," directed by Mr. Brown, July 13-17; and "Of Thee I Sing," directed by Mr. Bankson, July 18-20. "Of Thee I Sing" is produced in cooperation with the Music Opera Workshop.

Two foreign language plays have also been scheduled to be presented July 11. These plays will be produced in cooperation with the NDEA Foreign Language Institute.

Season tickets for the Summer Theater are $5 for the six shows. The tickets may be used singly or in combination. Single admission to each play will be $1.25 without season tickets.

Students are urged to participate in the summer theater program. As many as five credits may be earned by any student who devotes two-thirds of his study and time to the course during a five-week period.

The Workshop is open to juniors, seniors, and graduates who have taken courses in drama. Other students may enroll as listeners, participate in the productions and take part in the weekly discussions.

Rognlien Discusses Ideas On Endowment Program

By BARBARA WILLIAMS

The University Endowment Foundation was established in 1950 as a non-profit Montana corporation to develop educational facilities at the University, to grant scholarships, to establish aid programs, to set up research projects and to assist the athletic program.

The aims of the Endowment Foundation were outlined at Leadership Camp Saturday morning at Flathead Lake Lodge by Mr. D. Gordon Rognlien, of Kalispell, vice-president of the Foundation's Board of Trustees. Mr. Rognlien said that a feeling of pride is necessary among all those connected with the University in order to make the Endowment Foundation a success and to gain the respect and position in the state to which the University is entitled.

He predicted the future of the Foundation in terms of "possibilities unlimited."

Mr. Rognlien was asked if the state legislature would be tempted to cut back on University appropriations if it felt the Endowment Foundation was too successful. The Endowment Foundation's purpose is to fill in where the legislature cannot provide, he said. Its objectives are supplementary and directed at taking care of things that have not and will not be taken care of by the legislature.

Mr. Rognlien said that it is important for the people of Montana to have the right kind of information about the Foundation. Unrestricted funds are needed, he said. The caliber of the Foundation's trustees is such that they are quite capable of determining the best use of the money, he said. The ideal situation would be to have the funds as unrestricted as possible, he said.

Mr. Rognlien said that gifts made for specific purposes and under specific circumstances are expensive to handle and difficult to administer.

The big advantage of the Endowment Foundation is that the funds are not in the hands of the state legislature. However, they are never committed for anything not supported by the legislature, Mr. Rognlien said.

Elaborating on the Foundation's aims, Mr. Rognlien said that student aid through the Worthy Scholar program has been providing full fee scholarships for outstanding freshmen since 1954. The program is crying for expansion, he said. The Foundation can now grant about 12 $300 scholarships each year.

Mr. Rognlien told of a particular woman who has given a sizable amount to the Worthy Scholar Program. He sent her the names and outstanding grade averages of the Worthy Scholars to whom her contributions are giving aid. Her response to this was an additional $10,000, he said.

Under the National Defense for student loans, the University has to contribute one-ninth of the money granted, Mr. Rognlien said.

Almost no funds are available for scholarships in all areas of study. There is never enough to take care of the needs of students, he said. We are far below other universities in this area.

Funds have never been sufficient to supply the Library adequately, Mr. Rognlien said. In regard to research at the University, he said that the only thing that hinders it in every school and department is lack of money.

ROTC Drillers Beat Bozeman In Dual Meet

The University's Army ROTC drill team out-marched the State College team at Bozeman Saturday for the fourth successive time since fall quarter.

The University team, commanded by Cadet Lt. William Mott, scored 409 to MSC's 390 points.

The drill team was organized last year and lost to the Bozeman team three times during its initial season. This year the team, in addition to defeating the State College squad, placed third at the Northwest meet held at Pullman, Wash. The State College placed last of seven teams at this meet.

Next weekend the team will march in the Lilac Festival Parade at Spokane. Tentative plans call for a trip to Washington, D.C., for the 1961 Cherry Blossom Festival.

Cadets who are members of the team are Mott, Conrad Colby, Jerome Ohman, Lester Ikeda, Joe Dietrich, Robert Barber, Allan Jeska, Larry Peterson, Thomas Grasseschi, George Petaja and Scott Eliason.

Kenneth Ross, Steve Lutz, Richard Hoffeld, Don Zeidler, Thomas Kirschten, Larry Stidmon, John Ward, Kit Valentine and Don Shalhope.

Dormitories To Entertain Visiting Girls

The freshman dormitories plan to house over 100 high school girls this weekend during Inter-scholastic, according to Linda Kammerzell, president of Triangle.

The freshman women will act as sponsors to each of the high school girls under a big-little sister program. The big sisters will meet the girls and show them to their rooms, provide information concerning the weekend activities, and show them around the campus.

Friday night after 1 o'clock hours, the big sisters will entertain the high school girls at a pajama party in Brantly Lounge. Entertainment will be provided by the Coquettes and Dina Riddle. A humorous skit will also be provided.

Some of the girls are expected to arrive Thursday, and will be staying in the dormitories Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Chapel Fund Still Alive

Questions erupted about the chapel fund after Gordon Rognlien's remarks at Leadership Camp. Students wanted to know what happened to the $34,000 raised toward the proposed $516,000 Religious Center.

Mr. Rognlien, Mr. Pantzer and Dean Cogswell gave answers, each explaining that nothing can be done until the proper time. They did not say when the proper time might be, but implied that patience often pays big dividends.

The Endowment Foundation sent a letter to contributors last March which, in part, says, "This committee has met . . . it calls for a termination of the project for the time being, and defers further action until some future time when the possibility of successful accomplishment appears to be more likely. It seems obvious that several substantial contributions will be required before work could be started."

Attached to the letter was a note, to be answered by contributors, saying, "I desire that my contribution to the Religious Center be utilized as follows:

1. Use for important University purposes as determined by the Board of Trustees of the Endowment Foundation.
2. Deposit in a Religious Center Fund for investment and reinvestment, to be used for such a project in the near future
3. Return it to me.

Mr. Pantzer said 257 contributors ($16,776) answered number one, 189 contributors ($3,838) answered number two and 84 contributors ($1,688) answered number three. A few wrote, he said, to have their donations ($868) used for other specific purposes. Others were memorial donations ($8,242) which will remain in the Chapel Fund.

This means $12,080 is left in the fund.

Mr. Rognlien assured the students, despite the reduction, that hope of having a chapel is not lost. He said there is strong feeling for construction of a small chapel, costing approximately $150,000 and similar to what Bozeman now has, rather than an elaborate Religious Center.

This sounds reasonable.

As students, we should understand that this is no small undertaking and the Endowment Foundation needs time and co-operation, instead of controversy, in planning an MSU chapel. As prospective alumni, we should give the matter serious thought.

Student Proposes MSU Honor System

To the Kaimin:

In reply to Dr. Schuster's speech; "combating the smog of dishonesty." Place the responsibility in the hands of the students in the form of an Honor System.

The Honor System at MSU could be an agreement between the faculty and the students. The faculty would agree to leave the responsibility for proper and honest conduct during written examinations in the hands of the students. The students in turn would agree to accept this responsibility. As an indication of such proper and honest conduct, the students would sign the following pledge: I pledge my honor as a lady (gentlemen) that during this examination I have neither given nor received assistance, and that I have seen no dishonest work. Failure to sign such a pledge would indicate in the student's opinion the system was violated during the examination.

An Honor Council would be members of the student body, elected to this position. A Board of Review would consist of the President of Honor Council, the Deans of the college and a faculty advisor to the Honor Council.

All investigations of violation would be conducted by the Honor Council. Each case would be referred to the Board of Review. It would either affirm the decision of the Council or return the case to the Council for renewed consideration.

If there is such a "smog" of dishonesty on the campus at the University, I am sure the students would accept such a policy.

Activities Planned By Home Ec Club At Interscholastic

The Home Economics Club is planning activities for high school home economists who will be on campus during Interscholastic, May 20-21, Helen Trippett, president, has announced.

A style show and luncheon are planned for Friday, May 20. Majors and minors in the department will model clothes they have made this year, Miss Trippett said.

An informal surprise party is planned for Saturday morning, May 21, she said.

Exhibits will be placed in the Women's Center showing activities of the home economics department and information about careers in the field, Miss Trippett said.

Fourteen Students Compete Tonight In Speech Contest

Fourteen students will compete in the annual Aber Memorial Oratorical contest tonight at 7:15 in LA 204.

All orations must be original. They are limited to 2,400 words and contain no more than 10 per cent quoted material. Prizes will be $20, $10 and $5. The prize money is the annual interest from an endowment by Prof. William Aber, one of the original five faculty members of the University.

Ralph Y. McGinnis, chairman of the speech department, will conduct the contest.

Professor Asserts He Was Misquoted

To the Kaimin:

I wish to correct the story on yesterday's Panel on Evolution.

I was quoted as saying, "Most theologians say that there is one plan for the world," Mr. Pfeiffer said, "but science doesn't support this idea." I never made such a statement.

I wished to express to the reporter the views of Dr. G. G. Simpson that his studies of evolution have failed to support the idea of a purpose in organic evolution.

Dr. Simpson points out that this is an important concept because it has been incorporated in some theology.

Robbins Meets Olson in Ring

Ed. Note: This is the fifth sketch of M-Club boxers who will fight in the M-Club bouts May 19.

A Kalispell fighter, who has been working on the railroad to get in shape, will meet an aggressive University freshman in this M-Club preliminary.

Bud Olson, of Kalispell, will take a five-fight advantage into the ring against Jerry Robbins, a representative of Phi Delta Theta.

Olson, who will be fighting at 150 pounds, has six fights on his record without a loss. He won five of the battles by knockouts and that is how he plans to win this match.

Olson was the Northern Division Golden Gloves champion in 1959.

Robbins will carry a 10 pound weight advantage into the fight, but he will have a clear disadvantage in experience. Robbins has only one fight on his record, but he did win that lone fight by a technical knockout.

The Robbins corner thinks that this fight will go the full three rounds but the University freshman believes that he has the power, especially in his left hand, to knock Olson out if he can find the opening.

WRA Will Provide Rides To Steak Picnic Today

Girls needing transportation to Montana Power Park for the WRA steak fry are asked to be at the Women's Center at 5:15 p.m. today.

The steak fry will be held in the Field House in case of rain. Approximately 139 girls have paid for the steak fry, Vodie Rhinehart, committee chairman, said.

Besides the awarding of trophies and honors for individuals and living groups, volleyball and softball will be on the evening's entertainment agenda.

Golfers Idle This Weekend After Beating MSC Twice

The Grizzly golfers, after two 12½-5½ wins over the State College last week, are idle this weekend.

But the Montana linksmen will be on the Missoula Country Club course in preparation for the Skyline Conference championship matches May 27-28 at the Country Club.

Prior to the league playoffs, the Montana golfers will entertain the Utah State team here May 26.

WHAT ELSE?

Nothing irks the hard-pressed college student more than shaking out an envelope from home and finding nothing in it but news and love.

Grizzly Tracksters to Attend Meet in Utah

Despite a good performance by the Grizzly track squad last weekend their chances in the Skyline Western Division meet do not look much better than a third place finish.

The University tracksters closed out their dual meet schedule Saturday with a 96 to 35 romp over Montana State College and they travel to Salt Lake City for the divisional meet this Saturday.

Track coach, Harry Adams, was pleased with the team's showing against MSC Saturday but he figures his Grizzlies can't do better than third in Salt Lake City.

"Brigham Young is the team to beat, and Utah State University also looks too tough for us," Adams said, "but we should finish ahead of Utah in the four-team."

Montana has an overall record of 3 wins against 2 losses. They lost 2 and won 1 in the conference. The Grizzlies defeated the University of Utah, Montana State College and Western Montana College of Education during the season and lost matches to BYU and Utah State.

Added power will come from Butch Hendricks who will join the team in Utah after he completes his pitching duties with the Grizzly baseball team Thursday. Hendricks is Montana's lone chance for points in the javelin event.

The best marks of the season are in parenthesis. Mile, Gary Wojtowick (4:18) and Glynn DeVries (4:24). Two mile, Wojtowick (9:36) and DeVries (9:45).

Half-mile, Phil Dwight (1:53.7) and Bill Anderson (1:54.7). Quarter-mile, Tom Simpson (49.7), and Ken Nelson (50.0). Dashes, Pat Dodson (9.8) in the 100-yard dash and (22.1) in the 200-yard dash.

Low hurdles, Gordon Pagenkopf (24.1). Shot put, Ken Wersland (51.2) and Harley Lewis (50.7). Discus, Wersland (1538). Broad jump, Bill Glaiser. Pole vault, Chuck Nelson (12-0).

The Grizzly mile relay team will probably consist of Dwight, Anderson, Simpson and Sterling Wetzsteon. The team has a top time of 3:21 this season.

Coach Adams said that Bill Matthews and Jerry Bjork, broad jump; Mike Baker and Gary Carlson, high jump; and Bill Walker, relay, might also make the Salt Lake trip. Adams said it would depend on their showing during practice this week whether they would attend the Utah meet or not.

Netmen Play Utah To End Schedule

Montana's cellar-dwelling tennis team, with admittedly little chance of winning a match this season, winds up its Skyline schedule tomorrow at the University courts against Utah State University.

Individually, the Silvertips boast two of the Skyline Conference top players in Mike Hogarty and Don Hubbard, but as a team they lack strength in depth.

Coach John Love said that Hogarty and Hubbard have a good chance of winning their matches, and if the other three netters, Steve Kirk, Bill Corette and Carl Lehrkind, come up with an unexpected victory between them, Montana could whip Utah State.

Hogarty and Hubbard are expected to bring some net honors back to the University from the Skyline championships at Fort Collins, Colo. May 27-28.

Ike Remains Calm As World Reacts To Summit Failure

PARIS (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita S. Krushchev paid farewell calls on British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and French President Charles de Gaulle today but skipped the U. S. Embassy residence in another obvious snub to President Eisenhower.

Meanwhile, in West Berlin fall-out from the Krushchev-devastated summit conference settled on the streets.

Residents of the free community 110 miles inside the Iron Curtain felt they never have been in greater jeopardy since the total land blockade which dictator Joseph Stalin clamped around them in 1948.

In Auburn, N.Y., Vice President Richard M. Nixon said Tuesday night Soviet Premier Nikita S. Krushchev committed a "major blunder" that turned world opinion against him when he torpedoed the Paris summit conference.

IKE ASKS FUNDS TO SPEED AGREEMENT ON TEST BAN

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower has asked Congress for $32,500,000 to devise better ways of detecting underground explosions and thereby speed an atomic test ban agreement.

The funds would be in the form of a supplemental appropriation for the Atomic Energy Commission to cooperate with the Defense Department in a research program.

The White House recently announced that the United States would conduct a series of small underground nuclear tests to try to determine what kind of machinery would be needed to prevent cheating on an atomic test ban.

OUTSPOKEN HAVANA PAPER SEIZED BY ITS EMPLOYEES

HAVANA (UPI)—Prensa Libre, Havana's last outspoken independent newspaper, has been taken over by employees who refused to print an editorial denouncing what it called "the sinister international plot led by Russia against our soil."

Assistant publisher Humerto Medrano and Ulises Carbo, signers of the editorial, sought asylum in the Panamanian Embassy as political refugees. Publisher Sergio Carbo had already left the country.

"A 'workers' committee' published Monday's edition, without the offending editorial and other matter critical of Premier Fidel Castro's government. A spokesman for the committee said he didn't know what Prensa Libre's fate would be.

Armour, Pfeiffer Discuss Evolution at LA Club Meet

"The Purposelessness of Evolution—Pro and Con" was debated by Leslie Armour, assistant professor of philosophy, and E. W. Pfeiffer, assistant professor of zoology, at yesterday's Liberal Arts Club meeting. Jesse Bier, associate professor of English, moderated the meeting.

Mr. Pfeiffer based his support of the theory of evolution on the work and books of George Simpson, Harvard University professor. Simpson states that "Evolution has no purpose—man must supply this for himself."

The closest relative to the human is the ape. Man is just another unique species of animal, Mr. Pfeiffer said. One of the differences, he noted, is that man is aware of his own existence.

Man is more readily adapted to changes in the environment than any other vertebrate, Mr. Pfeiffer said. A human being can be sent to any part of the world and survive through the employment of his environment, he said.

The human has the power to communicate with other humans. He can store information in libraries, so therefore the human does not have to start the learning process from scratch, he said.

Mr. Armour said that there is a purpose in evolution. This is not a "chance" universe that we live in, he said. Some events are more probable than others.

The universe can be explained by causal laws and by volition or choice. But, he explained, these causal laws can not be used to explain other causal laws indefinitely.

Mr. Armour stated that the purpose in our lives and in the universe is completion. Most of our choices are means, he said—means to an end. The end was defined as "rest" when there is no longer a need to choose.

Mr. Pfeiffer, on the other hand, supported the belief that there is no purpose to the progression of the universe and man from one stage of development to another.

During questions from the floor, the question of how other forms of life have evolved separately from humans was asked. Bees were given as an example of a highly developed form of life that has evolved along different lines than humans.
